SOLANO COUNTY – Caltrans has closed the J-Mack Ferry on State Route 220 (SR-220) in the Delta until further notice due to high water levels and abnormally strong currents. This temporary closure of the J-Mack started on Wednesday, February 27 at 8:00 AM.

Caltrans will continue to monitor the water levels and make an announcement as soon as a return time for the J-Mack Ferry to return to service is determined.

The J-Mack Ferry runs on a cable across Steamboat Slough between Ryer Island in Solano County and Sacramento County. And provides around the clock service on SR-220.

During the J-Mack Ferry closure, motorists are advised to use the Real McCoy Ferry, also known as the Cache Slough Ferry along State Route 84.

The SR-84 Real McCoy Ferry was returned to service on Tuesday, February 26 at 3:00 PM
